GRAYLING DRAWS GAYLORD

FOR FIRST CLASH

Graylig high school's undefeated basket-tossers have a hard row to hoe in the District Basketball tournament that starts here tonight, continuing through Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7.

This is the first time in the tournament programs were solic-history of tournaments here that a Grayling team has drawn Gaylord for the first game. Every year that Mancelona has been in our tourney previous to this we have drawn them.

At 7:15 tonight a game is scheduled to bring Johannesburg scheduled to bring Johannesburg and Vanderbilt together. During the season Vanderbilt —whipped Johannesburg twice. Johannesburg beat Wolverine in two games who in turn defeated Vanderbilt twice. All in all the game here should be a nip and tuck affair. The feature game of the evening is scheduled for 9:15. At that time the two teams to fight it out will be Grayling and Gaylord. The Northern Lights have turned back Makel's squad twice during the season. A nip and tuck battle was fought at Gaylord with the Cornell-coached team winners, 15-14. Then the Top O'Michigan boys came back for revenge only to be downed 2-12. Last year the homesters were victorious in two games also and were defeated by Gaylord in the tourney and this year they will be out there to settle for that.

BANKERS ARRANGING REGIONAL MEETINGS

Studying New Legal and Economic Conditions Affecting Bank Management

STRESS PUBLIC OPINION

American Bankers Association Sponsor of Meetings as Part of Nationwide Program of Banking Development

PHILADELPHIA .- Fifteen hun dred bankers from fifteen eastern states that here in January in a two day conference devoted to discus sions on legislative, managerial, orerating and public relations prob lems of the banking business. This was the first of a series of meetings planned by the American Bankers Association in its nationwide pro gram of banking development un der the leadership of Robert V Fleming, president of the associa tion, Similar conferences will be held in southern and western sec tions of the country.

"It is the purpose of these working conferences, to bring to associa tion members and other bankers a thorough knowledge of the change in banking laws and rules, provide discussion of better public relations so that there shall be greater cooperation and understanding between the banker and his customers. and to give opportunity for a survey of the problems incident to the Government's competition with chartered institutions " he said.

To Help Government Quit Banking

The discussions at the conference showed that the bankers are ready to make it ensier for the Govern ment to relinquish many of its emergency financial services as soon as possible by demonstrating how their institutions are able to render full banking facilities.

Bankers generally have recognized that in times of emergency the Government had to come to the assistance of the people where chartered institutions were unable to do so on account of such conditions, Mr. Fleming said. They also realize that possibly many function: which the Government is perforn: ing are of a nature which cannot be handled by chartered institutions under fundamental principles of Sound banking ... On the other hand, he said, "we should survey all emergency lend ing hicasures of the Government to judge which of these activities can e properly and soundly taken over by banks."

The attending bankers devoted time to considering the Banking Act of 1935 and the many related regulations and discretionary powers under the Federal law. Thes were explained by O. Howard Wolf of Philadelphia, who said he ha found there are fort; eight places is the act where provision is made for discretionary power . be exercised by government officials through rule or regulation.

Bank taxation was discussed by Charles H. Mylander of Columbus Ohio, who declared that "the aver age American is vitally interested in taxation of banks because so vency may depend to a large degreupon the way in which the taxing power is exercised upon them." To prove his point he cited earn ings figures which showed that, in the year ended June 30, 1934, "for the United States as a whole, na tional banks used $14.89 out of each $100 of net operating earnings, be fore taxes, in payment of taxes; but in Aeven of the twelve Federal Reserve Districts the percentage of earnings used for taxes was above the average. It was in practically these same seven districts that the greatest number of bank failures occurred in those hectic years from 1920 to 1933."

As an example of how far taxation can go, he quoted official figures showing that in 1934 a large number of small state banks paid on the average $34.20 of every $100 of op erating profits for taxes. Mr. My lander urged that there be "brough home to the average American the self-evident truth that banks, deal ing as they do only in intangible property, are not proper subjects for property taxation; that the true measure of a bank's ability to pay taxes is the earnings it can make.

WHEN BANK CROOKS SHOW PREFERENCES

The American Bankers Associa tion reports that non-member banks suffer twice the percentage of bur glaries and hold-up robberies as compared with members, Member banks display a sign showing tha they receive the protection of the association's detective agents, who cause the arrest of from 150 to 400 bank crooks every year, the or ganization, which is a non-profit body, says. "Professional criminals ofter boast of having sense enough to draige the far-reaching system of man hunting available to members so long as there are other banks without this projection," it says "They recognize that once on 4h. scord of the Association's Protec tive Department, they must pay for were erime with which they can be Identified Detainer warrants have followed them from place to place so that penal servitude for one crime | A true copy.
